The following are the qualifications required for leading positions of the Central Administration of Light Industry in Yugoslavia. The numbers listed below correspond with those on the attached organizational chart.

1. Minister: A member of the Central Committee of the Yugoslav Communist Party.
2. Deputy Minister for the Plan: A Communist with excellent recommendations or an unusually able expert who is a candidate for membership in the Communist Party and is closely supervised.
3. Deputy Minister for Cadre Policy and Head of the Financial Department: Only a veteran Communist from the working class can qualify for these positions.
4. Deputy Minister for Building Operations: A Communist or professional engineer.
5. Deputy Minister of Manufacturing Operations: A veteran Communist. If the candidate for this position has been employed in light industry, he should be a worker. During the initial period of Communist regime, the position of Deputy Minister was held by non-Communists but since the introduction of the Five-Year Plan, this position has been given only to Communists.
6. Council of Experts: A professional group of about 10 prominent experts from all technical fields. Some of this group are permanent members of the council, others are sent to various factories/consultants. Membership in the Communist Party is not obligatory, but the council members are under Party supervision.
7. Secretariate: A Communist.
8. Financial Department of the Plan: Chief, a Communist; three section chiefs; three specialists (referenti), and typists.
